Ludvig Nilsson

Managing Partner & Co-Founder
Jade Invest

Background

Ludvig co-founded the private equity firm Jade Invest in 2005 in Shanghai. In his current capacity, Ludvig is responsible for overseeing day-to-day activities of the firm's Shanghai office, including investment management, investor relations and internal operations, as well as several board directorships in Jade's investments. Ludvig's previous experience includes PwC Transaction Services Strategy Group (London), Roland Berger Strategy Consultants (Shanghai) and Longshine Technology (Beijing & Shanghai).

Ludvig holds a BA in Chinese and Management from The School of Oriental and African Studies (SOAS), University of London, and is a fluent Mandarin speaker. Ludvig has been the Chairman of the Board of Directors of the Swedish Chamber of Commerce in China since 2001.

Mission Statement

I first arrived in China 25 years ago and have lived in China for over 20 years. For most of my time here, I have focused on gaining a deep understanding of the local market and how Chinese companies are developing. I would like to bring this experience to Swedish companies, to help them develop better in China. This means finding ways to sharpen the tools to compete effectively with leading local companies in China, as well as finding win-win partnerships with Chinese companies for the Chinese and international markets.

I also think the chamber has an important role in helping Chinese employees in Swedish companies to understand Swedish culture, communication and leadership style as well as values. This is important to help Swedish companies attract and motivate the best talent as well as building support for the Sweden brand

Rui Wang

IVL Swedish Environmental Research Institute

At IVL, my current job is building up platform to promote Swedish cleantech in Chinese market. I have been cooperating with some Swedish companies to support them to do business in China. I have been working a lot for the promotion of Swedish national export platform Smart City Sweden, together with our Swedish colleagues. “I believe many Swedish companies sometimes meet environmental challenges in their business because China’s regulations for the environmental permit/control become more and more strict. And many Swedish companies want to be frontiers in environment protection and sustainability development. I hope that I could support them when needed. “

Daniel Öhvall

Counsel, Ashurst

Background

Daniel is a Counsel in Ashurst's corporate practice based in Shanghai. He is specialised in M&A transactions and corporate and contractual joint ventures in China and Asia Pacific. He started his career in Stockholm before relocating to Hong Kong in 2009, and then Shanghai in 2015.

Daniel regularly advises Swedish and other North European companies, investors and entrepreneurs on their business in China. His experience includes having advised the Swedish founder of the air purifier brand Blueair on the sale of Blueair to Unilever.

He lives with wife and two children in Pudong and is a keen runner and student of Chinese history and culture.

Mission Statement

I have spent the past 13 years in China as a lawyer supporting international companies. I am keen to make use of this experience to support the Chamber and its members to achieve their potential in this growth market.

One area of particular interest is the Chamber's events and activities. High-quality contents bring people together, trigger interesting conversations and provide insights needed in an increasingly fast changing environment. Another area of interest is to advocate for regulations and policies that affect our community. I have a deep interest for Chinese language and culture and wish to contribute to an outward looking and inclusive Swedish Chamber in China.

Karen Xu

Head of Investor Relations and Corporate Communications, White Peak

Background

Karen Xu is the Head of Investor Relations and Corporate Communications at White Peak, a China-focused real estate fund manager and residential developer invested by Nordic institutional investors. Karen is responsible for White Peak's investor relations, corporate communications and sustainability initiatives.

Prior to joining White Peak, Karen held several management positions at property consultancy firms in Beijing and Shanghai, providing advisory services on the real estate market, including transactional due diligence, portfolio valuation and other related services.

Karen holds a Master of City and Regional Planning degree from Cornell University. She is also a graduate of Peking University in Beijing, China.

Mission Statement

I was deeply involved in promoting the sustainability values especially the Swedish Hammarby Eco City model in China. I'm also a member of the Beijing Chapter Board of the Swedish Chamber and acted as the National Vice Chair of the Construction Working Group of the European Union Chamber of Commerce in China.

I have developed deep understandings on the realities Swedish businesses are faced with as well as the opportunities they have in China. I think my passion, knowledge and network could be a valuable addition to the Main Board on certain aspects including strengthening the collaboration and sharing among members as well as promoting sustainability in China and internationally.
