Conference Background

China is fast becoming the largest market in terms of cosmetics and especially skin care of the world. The scale of China's medical and beauty market has reached 176 billion yuan in 2017. By 2020, the annual growth rate will remain above 40%. The China FDA issued a statement in Jan 2019 clarifying that it is illegal for any cosmetic product in China to claim or promote the concept of "cosmeceutical." Under this circumstance, some companies are promoting new concepts like "medical skin care", "precision skin care", "dermocosmetics", etc. Many dermatologists involved in cosmetic research, have, to some extent, acknowledged that the cosmetics industry has a close intersection with medicine and pharmacy. Meanwhile consumer is paying more attention to the effectiveness of skin care products. In the face of supervision, what should the brands do? How to develop their product and promotion?

Under this background, Ringier's Happi China magazine will organize Skin Health Management & Medical Aesthetics Seminar 2019 on September 11th in Shanghai, China. Top experts in cosmetic brands and hospitals will share their latest research and clinical experience in the field of skin health and Medical Aesthetics. This provides the best opportunity for networking and knowledge exchange within cosmetics brands, OEMs, hospitals, beauty salons and vendors. We endeavor bring you the most frontier information, biggest networking platform, best opportunity to achieving cooperation in the medical and beauty industry.
