

Implantable & Interventional Medical Device Manufacturing & Technology Conference 2018

Aug.16-17 | Shanghai, China

Implantable & Interventional Medical Device Manufacturing & Technology Conference 2018 ended successfully at Longemont Shanghai from August 16 to 17, 2018. The conference gathered 200+ elite leaders of implanted medical devices at home and abroad, from 90+ well-known companies in the industry, involving 20 hot topics, in various forms such as policy analysis, case studies, panel discussions, brainstorming, and innovative product release areas, providing an excellent communication platform for all participants!

It was a great honor to invite Mr. Feng Jiang, Executive Chairman and CEO of China Association for Medical Devices Industry (CAMDI), to brilliantly share with us the Market Prospect of China's Medical Device Industry. The opening speech was given by Mr. Michael Qian, General Manager of Stararc Coating. In addition, the conference also specially invited Mr. Senyong Lin, Director of the Medical Equipment Supervision Department, Shanghai Municipal Food and Drug Administration, to make an in-depth analysis of the new policy on the Pilot Experience Sharing and Future Prospects of the Medical Device Holder System in Shanghai. The guests at the stage frequently greeted the warm applause. During the coffee break, the exhibition area was bustling, and the participants enjoyed the delicious refreshments while watching the study, exchanged business cards, and exchanged discussions. The atmosphere was very warm!

Through two days of academic lectures and exchanges, participants fully understood the latest regulatory new policies and market hotspots of the national medical devices, and discussed the key research directions and future trends of medical devices in China with their peers. We believe that everyone has gained a lot. At the same time, we also hope that you can contact us at any time with any comments and suggestions. Let us learn together and make progress together. See you again next year!
